Savor Snoqualmie Valley celebrates and promotes the local food and farms, arts and culture, heritage, outdoor recreation, and independent businesses of the Valley.

Welcome!

The Snoqualmie River Valley is situated between Seattle and the Cascade Mountains, in the Mountains to Sound Greenway National Heritage Area.

There’s so many things to do

- Visit a museum and hear stories of the Valley
- Stroll through historic downtowns and explore public art installations or peruse local art for sale
- Learn something new while you take an interpretive walk
- Gather inspiration from art installations in nature
- Get your camera ready for the many iconic photo spots
- Take in some live music and a night on the town

For more information visit: SavorSnoqualmieValley.org

Savor Snoqualmie Valley is coordinated by the Mountains to Sound Greenway Trust in partnership with government, business, and community leaders.

Your guide to local food and farms, outdoor activities, heritage, and art in the Snoqualmie Valley

Take an Interpretive Walk

Enjoy a walk through town or forest while you learn about the stories and natural wonders of the Valley.
Gather inspiration: ART IN NATURE

There is nothing like the great outdoors to inspire beautiful art. Explore these interactive art installations — in nature, inspired by nature.

Enjoy live music throughout the year from indoor performances in town, to blues and jazz walks, to outdoor concert series, and festivals.

Enjoy Valley Performing Arts

Appreciate culture with an array of theatrical performances. Valley Center Stage, Snoqualmie Falls Forest Theater, and Duvall Performing Arts will entertain and inspire you. Also check out the historic North Bend Theatre for independent art film screenings and film festivals.

EXPLORE ART IN TOWN

Experience a diverse spectrum of fine arts as you stroll through the historic downtowns of Duvall, Carnation, Fall City, Snoqualmie, and North Bend. Peruse local art in coffee shops, stop in at a gallery, or enjoy the outdoor art featured on mainstreet.
